

Options with a degree in English Literature

What skills will you develop?

English Literature graduates are able to:

- think analytically and creatively when approaching a problem
- work with an open mind, move beyond boundaries and experiment with different ideas
- work independently and manage their time and workloads effectively to set deadlines
- put forward ideas and arguments in a concise manner, both verbally and in writing
- gather, investigate and assess material
- synthesise facts, ideas and arguments
- base conclusions on research
- accept, reflect on criticism and learn from feedback
- organise material in a logical and coherent way
